BUYAT BAY offers something different amongst North Sulawesi's existing diving attractions. Buyat's distinctive DNA consists of clear waters and reefs that explode with coral growth. There are many beautiful coral formations such as the hard coral and fields of stag horn coral that are pristine. The reefs form steep slopes rather than drop offs so are almost continuous carpets of coral. Table corals and branching corals dominate in the shallows, giving way to lettuce corals and more massive forms with depth. You will also see large schools of fish and enough rare critters sighting to please everyone along with picturesque villages and landscapes throughout the area.

LEMBEH diving is unlike anywhere else on earth. It's a haven for the unusual and a rare treat for any avid diver. You will see critters here that you have only seen in the fish identification books, and they are not rare but fairly common. Every dive brings a plethora of new and exciting subjects. A true photographers dream!

North Sulawesi offers unparalleled marine biodiversity, with a wide range of dive experience options. But for divers interested in searching out encounters with bizarre and beautiful critters, Lembah Strait, located near the port town of Bitung, hosts the best critter diving on the planet.
